Re: Bloodworth v. United States of America, et al.
Civil Action No. 5:13-CV-112(MTT)

Dear Mr. Bloodworth and Ms. Wall:

The Defendant's attorney has asked the Court's courtroom deputy whether she should respond to the Plaintiff's motion to amend. The answer, which should be obvious, is yes. In particular, if the Government's attorney believes that the amendment would be futile because the claims would be barred by the statute of limitations, she certainly needs to brief that issue.

With best regards.

Sincerely,

s/Marc T. Treadwell
